

Aristotle Onassis

The surgeon

Dr Aribert Heim

'The Greek' (my nickname for him) was present in the cult cavern accessed down stairs from Westminster Abbey (needs confirmation) in London in 1969. He also hosted the party at the manor house c1982. The manor house was a building in the class of Blenheim Palace. I was given to believe that he was a Greek shipping billionaire. He had an appearance like Aristotle Onassis (1906-1975) in his prime, here pictured in 1955.

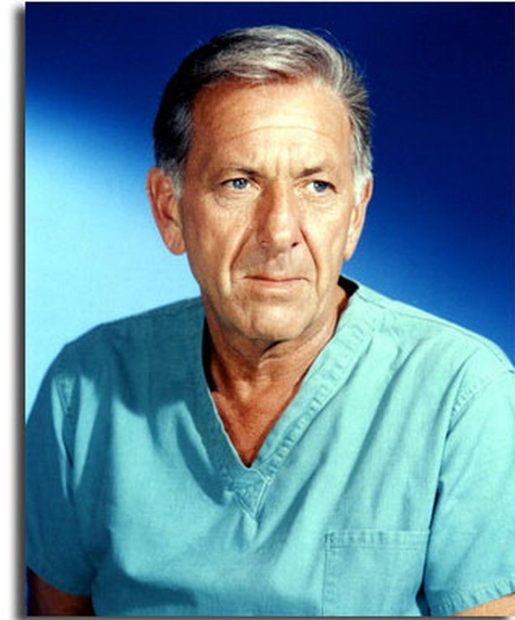

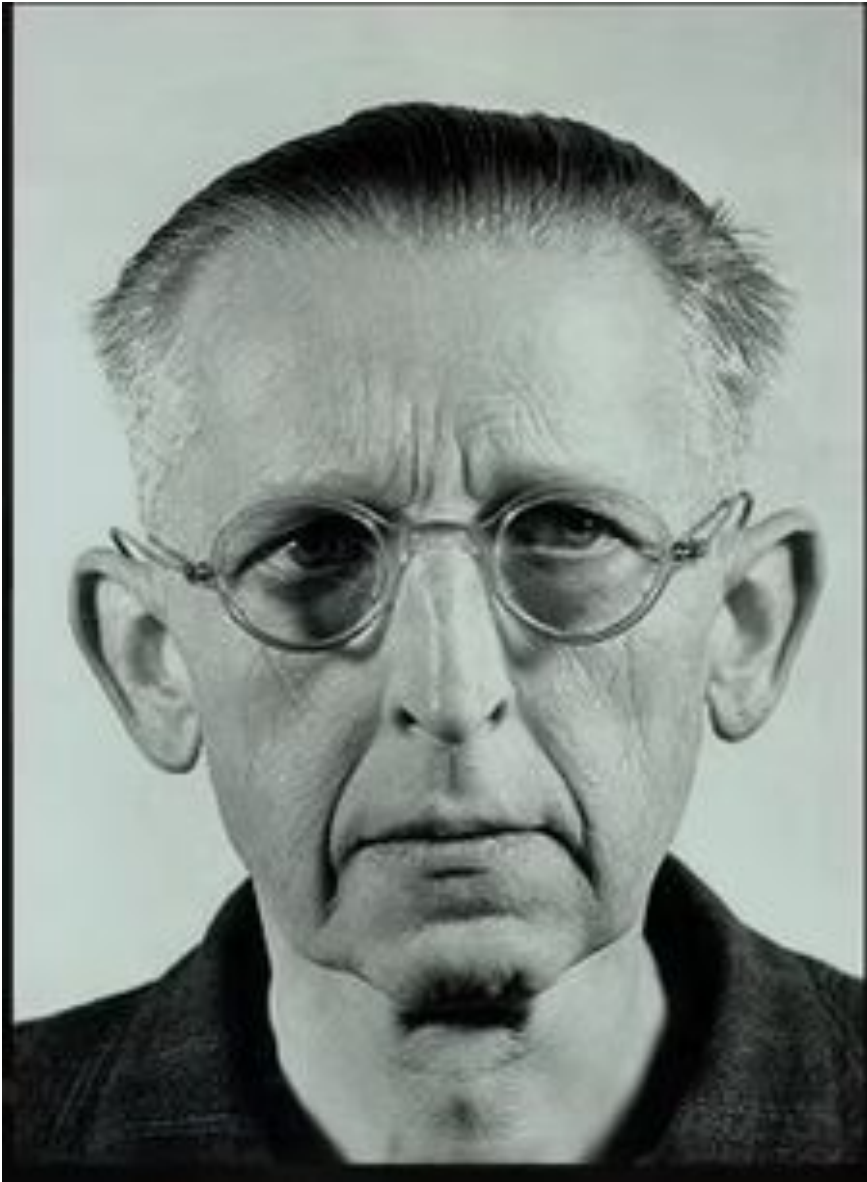

The mage from the temple in Brazil c1970 when we lived in São Paulo had a similar appearance.

The psychic surgeon operated on me in a tribal village in Brazil. He was also similar but more rugged looking. This frame from the film Dragonquest is reminiscent but needs to be more Latino-Mediterranean. (This picture has been slightly compressed laterally because it looked too heavy set)

Right is Nazi doctor Aribert Heim who may have been one or all of those three men.

Doctor Johannes Goebel

Jack Klugman, the actor who played the coroner Quincy.

Incident B48: Driven from Sao Paulo to a hospital in the country:

“... A saggy faced wide-forehead gray haired doctor examined me. He looked like an old Quincy Jones M.D. He had a creaky German Jewish voice. The name Dr. Green rings a bell, but this man's appearance is different (to Mengele). He did some basic tests, blood test, and psychological tests. They talked about me and it seemed I was no longer useful to them. After the sacrifice of the baby I had dissociated, lights on but no-one home.

The doctor's appearance was like Dr Johannes Goebel the Schering AG biochemist who was sterilising women in Auschwitz. He was accused of war crimes at the Polish Supreme Tribunal in 1947 but not tried.